The State of Affairs in and About Johnstown is Awful.

In All Directions Bodies are Being Found and Borne to Temporary Morgues.

JOHNSTOWN, June 3.—To say that Johnstown is a wreck is but stating the facts of the case. Nothing like it has ever been seen in this country. Where long rows of dwelling houses and business blocks stood forty-eight hours ago, ruin and desolation now reign supreme. Probably 1,500 houses have been swept from the face of the earth as completely as if they had never been erected. Main street, from end to end, is piled fifteen and twenty feet high with debris and in some places it is as high as the roofs of the houses. This great mass of wreckage fills the street from curb to curb and frequently has crushed the fronts of buildings in and filled the space with reminders of the terrible calamity. There is probably not a man in the place who can give an reliable estimate of the number of houses that have been swept away. City Solicitor Kuhn, who should be very good authority in this matter, places the number at 1,500.

From the woolen-mill, above the island, to the bridge, a distance of probably two miles, a strip of territory nearly half a mile in width has been swept clean. Not one stick of timber nor one brick on top of another is left. It is the most complete wreck that imagination could portray. All day long, men, women and children were plodding about the desolate waste, trying in vain to locate the boundaries of their former homes. Nothing but a wide expanse of mud, ornamented here and there with heaps of driftwood, remained for their contemplation. It is perfectly safe to say that every house in the city that was not located well up on the hillside was either swept completely away or wrecked so badly that rebuilding would be absolutely necessary.

The loss is, however, as nothing compared to the frightful sacrifices of precious human lives to be seen on every hand. Sunday Johnstown was drenched with the tears of stricken mortals, and the air was filled with sobs and sighs that came from breaking hearts. There are scenes enacted here every hour and every minute that affect all beholders profoundly. When brave men die in battle for country or for principle, their loss can be reconciled to the stern destinies of life. When homes are torn assunder in an instant, and the loved ones from the arms of loving and devoted mothers, there is an element of sadness connected with the tragedies that touch every heart.

An utterly wretched woman, Mrs. Fenn, stood by a muddy pool of water, trying to find some trace of a once happy home. She was half crazed with grief and her eyes were red and swollen. As the writer stepped to her side, she raised her pale and haggard face and remarked: "They are all gone! O, God, be merciful to them! My husband and my seven dear little children have been swept down with the flood, and I am left alone. We were driven by the raging flood into the garret, but the waters followed us there. Inch by inch it kept rising until our heads were crushing against the roof. It was death to remain, so I raised a window, and one by one I placed my darlings on some driftwood trusting to the great Creator. As I liberated the last one—my sweet little boy—he looked at me and said: 'Mamma, you always told me the Lord would care for me. Will He look after me now?' I saw him drift away, with his loving face turned toward me, and with a prayer on my lips for his deliverance he passed from sight forever. The next moment the roof crashed in and Ifloated outside to be rescued, four or five hours later, from the roof of a house in Keansville. If you only find one of my darlings, I could bow to the will of God."

A CITY OF THE DEAD.

Nineveh is literally a city of the dead. The entire place is filled with corpses. [illegible] night had been taken out of the river in the morning by the people at Niniveh, who worked incessantly night and day, searching the river. The bodies when found were placed in a four horse wagon, frequently twelve at a time and driven up to Robert Kerrs and Graham's shops by Harry Moorehead. Of the bodies taken out near Niniveh fully three fourths are woman and the rest children. But few men are found there.

In one row at the planing mill to-day were eighteen children's bodies awaiting embalming.

Next to them was a woman whose head had been crushed in so as to destroy her features. On her hand were three diamond rings. The cry is for

MORE COFFINS,

As the death list is mounting up appallingly.

DREDGING THE RIVER

Members of the state board of health arrived in Nineveh this morning and determined to proceed at once to dredge the river, to clean it of the dead and prevent the spreading of disease. To this end they have wired the state department to furnish them with the proper appliances. They will take charge of the town to-day.

THIEVING HUNGARIANS.

Ex-Sheriff Dick drove seven Hungarians into the Conemaugh river at Kerrville this morning, and kept them there until all were drowned. They had been caught stealing from the dead bodies and looting private buildings. Sheriff Dick says that he will stand no more nonsense of this kind, and will shoot, hang or drown every Hungarian in Cambria county, but that he will put a stop to their fiendish lawlessness.

A CLEAN SWEEP.

From the woolen mills above the island to the bridge, a distance of probably two miles, a strip of territory nearly half a mile in width has been swept clean, not a stick of timber nor one brick on top of another being left to tell the story. It is the most complete wreck that imagination could portray.

The number of

DRUNKEN MEN

Is remarkable. Whisky seems marvelously plenty. Men are actually carrying it around in pails. Barrels of the stuff are constantly located among the drifts and men are fighting like wild beasts for it.

THE FIGHTING ROBBERS

At the cemetery in the upper end of the town a number of ghouls had found a lot of fine groceries, including a barrel of brandy, with which they were fairly stuffing themselves. One huge fellow was standing on the strings of an upright piano singing a profane song. A half dozen others were engaged in a hand-to-hand fight over the possession of some treasure stolen from a ruined house, and the crowd around the barrel were yelling like wild men.

NO ROOM FOR SIGHT SEERS.

The following telegram was sent to Pittsburg by the citizens committee: "For God's sake tell the sight viewers to stay away from Johnstown for the present. What we want is people to work, not to look on."

HOW THE PASSENGERS ESCAPED.

JOHNSTOWN, June 3.—In a talk to-day with Conductor Bell, of the first section of the day express east, laid up at Conemaugh on the night of the disaster, he said: "The first and second sections stopped side by side at Conemaugh Friday afternoon, on account of the washout at Lilly. The second was next to the hill, the first on the out side. Suddenly I saw what looked like a wall of water. It was thirty feet high. We barely had time to notify the passengers and they nearly all fled up the hillside. One old man, who with his son returned for some reason, was drowned. Two cars went down in the current. I do not know how many were drowned. We saw two on top of the cars. The water set fire to a lot of lime and the fire caught two Pullman cars, which were destroyed, but no person was burned, all the passengers having left the train before the cars caught fire. There were about 100 passengers on my section, which was made up of day coaches. After the mad rush the passengers went back to the cars and later were cared for by the people of Conemaugh. Afterwards they were taken to Ebensburg. They expected to go east to Altoona this afternoon. Friends of those on the Chicago limited need fell no anxiety, as it was not in the flood at all."

The following persons, passengers on the day express, are said to have been drowned at Conemaugh: Mrs. J. W. Brady, Chicago; Miss Margaret Patrick, Pittsburg; Wm. Sheller, Newark, N. J.

A THRILLING INCIDENT.

James M. Walters, an attorney, spent the night at Alma Hall, and relates a thrilling story. One of the most curious occurences of the whole disaster was how Mr. Walters got to the hall. He has his office on the second floor. His home is at No. 135 Walnut street. He [illegible] persons had taken refuge in the hall, and were on the second, third and fourth stories. The men held a meeting, and drew up some rules, which all were bound to respect. Mr. Walters was chosen president, Rev. Beale was put in charge of the first floor, A. M. Hart of the second floor, Doctor Matthews of the fourth floor. No lights were allowed, and the whole night was spent in darkness. The sick were cared for. The weaker women and children had the best accommodations that could be had, while the others had to wait. The scenes were most agonizing. Heart-rending shrieks, sobs and moans pierced the gloomy darkness. The crying of the children mingled with the suppressed sobs of the women. Under the guardianship of the men all took more hope. No one slept during all the long dark night. Many knelt for hours in prayer, their supplications mingling with the roar of the waters and the shrieks of the dying in the surrounding houses. In all this misery two women gave premature birth of children. Dr. Matthews is a hero. Several of his ribs were crushed by falling timber, and his pains were most severe, yet he attended all the sick. When two women in a house across the street shouted for help, he, with two other brave young men, climbed across the drift and ministered to their wants. No one died during the night, but women and children surrendered their lives on the succeeding day as a result of terror and fatigue. Miss Rose Young, one of the young ladies in the hall, was frightfully cut and bruised. Mrs. Young had a leg broken. All of Mr. Walter's family were saved.

FIREMEN DO GOOD WORK.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 3, 10 a. m.—The fire in the drift above the bridge is under control and is being rapidly smothered by the Pittsburg firemen in charge of the work. About 7 o'clock this morning a party of Battery "B" boys discovered a family of five people in the smoking and burned ruins above the bridge. They took out the father, mother and three children, all terribly burned and mutilated. The little girl had an arm torn off. The battery boys are going home, by order of Adjutant General Hastings.

MINERAL CITY WIPED OUT.

Mineral City, six miles above Johnstown, is entirely wiped out. It had about 200 inhabitants. Among those whose bodies were found are: Samuel Payne, wife and five children; Mrs. James Fintery, Mrs. Abe Byers and two children. It is said that fully 150 bodies were found last evening in a sort of a pocket below the Pennsylvania railroad signal tower at Sang Hollow, where it was reported there would be a big find: There were 180 bodies at Nineveh at 9 o'clock. The inquests will begin there to-day.

A resident of Mineral Point says that there is no doubt that the South Fork dam broke and caused the flood. He says that pieces of the bridge and other fragments of the dam were carried down stream, and some were washed ashore at that point.

$80,000 IN THE VAULTS AT THE CAMBRIA WORKS.

Saturday would have been pay day at the Cambria Iron works. The money, $80,000, was drawn from the bank on Friday and was placed in the vaults of the company's office. It is still there and is a constant temptation to the many professional and amatuer thieves who are on the ground.

On Saturday night an attempt was made to rob the First National bank, all of which, except the vaults, had been destroyed. The thieves were discovered by the citizen patrol and a lively chase ensued. Six of the scoundrels were shot, but it is not known whether any were killed or not as their dead bodies would have been washed away immediately if such had been the case.

FIRES BREAK OUT.

The natural gas has been shut off and no fire is allowed in the town. Bishop Phelan and Fathers Corochran and Gallagher are now here. One of the Catholic churches burned on Saturday. A funeral was being held at the time. The congregation deserted the church and the body burned with the building. The brick Catholic church in the center of the town is totally wrecked.

PROMINENT DEATHS.

Some of the most prominent citizens of this city, and of the state, are among those who have perished. John Fulton, president of the constitutional amendment association, and general manager of the Cambria Iron works, with his wife and children, are drowned.

S. J. Roberts, cashier of the First National bank, and John Dibert, a banker, were also drowned. The former's son perished with him. The wife and daughter, Minnie, of Cyrus Elder, one of the greatest authorities on the tariff in the country, are dead. H. A. Schumacher, prothonotary of Cambria county. G. H. Rose, district attorney. Dr. John Lowman, the wife and children of [illegible]

FROM THE RUINS ALIVE.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 3.—2 p. m.—One would not suppose that two days and three nights after the occurrence of so dire a disaster, people would be taken from the ruins alive, yet two persons have been rescued, one last night and one this morning. Both are still living but one will probably die. A woman was rescued last night in the vast pile of debris above the bridge, buried under the wreck of her house. She was lying on her side, and was almost dead from hunger and exposure.

SAFE AT ALTOONA.

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—For the first time in forty-eight hours communication was had directly with Altoona at 6 o'clock last evening at the Pennsylvania railroad office in this city. The superintendent at Altoona says the Atlantic express, leaving Pittsburgh at 3 a. m. Friday, the Chicago & New York limited (eastbound), which left Pittsburg at 7:10 Friday morning, and the Seashore express which left Johnstown early Friday morning, arrived at Altoona Saturday afternoon. All the passengers in these three trains are reported to be well.

AN APPEAL TO MASONS.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., June 3.—The following call was issued yesterday morning:

OFFICE OF GRAND MASTER OF MASONS,
TERRE HAUTE, June 2, 1889.

To the Subordinate Lodges in Indiana:

You are urgently requested to raise suitable contributions and make such suitable appropriations as are possible for the immediate relief of masonic sufferers from the great flood disaster at and around Johnstown, Pa., and send the funds so raised promptly to William H. Smythe, grand secretary, at Indianapolis, for proper distribution.

THOMAS B LONG, Grand Master.

A SAD TALE AT CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, June 3.—There are many people in this city who had relatives or friends living in or near Johnstown and it is feared that when full particulars are learned of those who perished in [illegible] relatives was received by the [illegible] yesterday morning.

"SANG HOLLOW, Pa., May 31.—[illegible] Fitzpatrick: Rose, her husband and child, and my wife and children were all drowned. Their bodies have not yet been found. Some of Bob's children were in the flood.

PETER FITZPATRICK."

The telegram was sent by the captain's brother, who in some way escaped the fate of his wife and children spoken of in the message.

A PICTURE DRAWN OF JOHNSTOWN.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 3.—3 p. m.—Death, ruin and desolation are but meagre words to be applied to Johnstown proper. Weeping women and children are at all places looking for their dead. From Kerrsville to New Florence, bodies are being found every few minutes. The first tour that has been made through the southeast end of the town was made this morning. The school house in the southeast part of the town is now a morgue, and in it are not less than 200 bodies, most of whom are unidentified.

The street at the foot of the hill is patrolled by citizens with loaded muskets. Without a pass from Gen. Hastings, it is impossible to get at the morgue. About 500 men are working here clearing away the debris, in order to make a wagon road for the bodies to be hauled away from the morgue. In front of the school-house is posted a list of the dead. On the platform a preacher is standing reading the names of those who are identified.

In this part of the town is located the Irish Catholic church and convent.

THE POWER OF PRAYER.

A remarkable story is told about these sisters. The mother of the convent saw the wave coming which she says was mountain high. She at once called all sisters into the chapel. Here the dozen nuns began to pray as they possibly never prayed before for protection from the water. When the water struck the building it shattered the entire structure, and every room except the one where the sisters knelt in prayer. The room is still standing, but it is liable to fall at any moment.

St. John's Catholic church was not damaged so much by water as by fire. It is unknown how the fire broke out. Living near the church was Mrs. McNally who, when she saw the water coming, made

A RUSH FOR THE CHURCH,

Thinking that she would be safe there, as it was an immense structure and her home was a small building. The crash of waters soon broke the windows and drowned the lady. By the water she was crushed into one of the windows, where she was found this morning, burned almost beyond recognition. John McNally, her son stayed in the house and was drowned there. His body was placed beside the charred remains of his mother, and both were taken in charge by one of the undertakers. Near the church also was found the bodies of Squire Brody, his wife and six children. They were caught by the water before they had time to take to the hills.

SAVED BY A DOG.

Henry Roberts, who lives in this part of the town, lost one child two months old. He had in his house a New Foundland dog, which was near the child when the fatal flood struck the house. The dog seemingly realized the situation and caught the child and started to swim to land. The force of the water washed the dog and child against the school house, where they were held until the water began to abate, and as soon as the animal could, he swam to the hill side with the babe in his mouth and delivered the dead infant to some people who were there.

TWO MILES OF COFFINS.

The horrors of this part of the town are beyond pen picture or description. What is just now going on can best be felt when it is told that a string of [illegible] two miles long were carrying coffins [illegible] the school-house, where hundreds [illegible] dead are lying. One after another the dead bodies are identified and moment after moment dead men, women and children are being taken into the temporary morgue.

Who were saved from the flood, [illegible] morning recognized the dead body of their mother. As if struck by an electric shock the three fell to the [illegible] when they saw her remains. [illegible] their names could be learned they were carried away to a house near by [illegible] physician summoned.

MONDAY, JUNE 3, 1889.

THE state board of equalization will meet at Indianapolis to-morrow.

A BOLD gang of thieves are following in the wake of Forepaugh's circus this year.

ONE agreeable feature of the flood news was the fact the Indianapolis base ball club was tied up at Harrisburg.

GENERAL THOMAS EWING told the graduating law class of the University of New York to "be like Roscoe Conkling—too proud to do a mean thing."

THERE was less destruction of property by fire in 1888 than in 1887 by $9,000,000. In round numbers the destruction last year amounted to $111,000,000.

ONE of the high school graduates at Richmond, took for the subject of his class address the necessity of a higher liquor license, the young scholars are getting down to the realities of life.

MARSHALL FIELD, the Chicago millionaire dry goods merchant, employs a man at a regular salary to see that his charities are worthily bestowed. He spends $25,000 a year in charity.

W. K. SHEFFER has sold the Angola Herald, the democratic organ of Steuben county, to John F. Sherman, a lawyer, of Waterloo. Possession will be given in July. Mr. Sheffer says the rewards of running a party organ are not great.

FOR the first time in a decade the Sunday law was rigidly enforced last Sunday at Indianapolis, the barber shops, saloons and all places of amusement being closed. The barbers have held several meetings of late with a view to testing the law requiring them to close their shops on Sunday, but at last concluded to obey its mandates and every shop was closed during the day.

MR. SIM COY was released from the prison north, Saturday, and Sundayed at Michigan City, expecting to reach Indianapolis this morning. Mr. Coy emerged from confinement in a new cutaway suit, a silk tile on his head, an overcoat thrown carelessly over his arm, and he carried a cane. It is promised that the dapper politician will even things with some of the fellows who pursued him for political reasons.

THE DISTRESSING FLOOD NEWS.

The latest tidings from Johnstown and the ill-fated villages in the flooded districts of Pennsylvania add to the horrors already related and increase the fearful aspect of the calamity.

Instead of one thousand or fifteen hundred the estimate now runs toward ten thousand, and no man can hope at this writing to figure the financial disaster with any degree of accuracy.

The sorrow is untold, the suffering beyond description, the ruin is wide spread and the ravages of the flood fearful to contemplate.

Even the great Pennsylvania railroad, always in readiness for great emergencies, cannot bridge the disaster and only to-day is accounting for trains and passengers. When an institution of this magnitude is prostrated in its efforts to overcome the calamity, need we marvel that whole communities are totally helpless. But to all this gloom there is a silver lining. From every point a generous people are dispatching substantial assistance, and in the hour of their greatest sorrow the unfortunates of the destroyed regions are kindly remembered by the most liberal people on the globe.

THE SENTINEL, through the swift medium of its special wire and representatives at the scenes of the death and destruction, is enabled to give its readers all the harrowing details of one of the worst calamities of modern times.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Interesting Confirmation Exercises at the St. Paul Lutheran Church—Sermons at Other Places.

Yesterday was a red letter day at the St. Paul Lutheran church, and the exercises were of a most impressive and interesting character. Seventy-seven children were confirmed at the morning service, and the pastor, Rev. H. G. Sauer, preached a sermon appropriate to the occasion. His words were full of eloquence, and were listened to by a large congregation. The confirmation exercises were to have been held a few weeks ago, but were delayed on account of the sickness of the pastor.

The services at the Salem Reformed church yesterday morning were of a similar character. Some fifteen children were confirmed and the pastor, Rev. C. F. Kriete officiated. His sermon was a grand one and appropriate to the interesting exercises of the day. The church was crowded and the attendants speak in a complimentary way of the sermon preached by their eloquent pastor.

OTHER RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

There was a larger attendance at the afternoon meeting of the city department of the Young Men's Christian association yesterday than there has been for a number of Sundays. The services were conducted by Rev. A. K. Zartman. He spoke from the text "Jesus Only" and his discourse was one in which love for Christ was the central thought. The Saviour, he said, was the foundation of the Christian religion and around Him the world clustered for hope, life, and salvation. His name was deserv[illegible] demption from our sins. His words were earnest and ringing and when he closed a very interesting after meeting was held in which a number gave brief experiences. The remarks of Rev. J. P. Lloyd, were particularly interesting, drawing, as he did, his illustrations from the scenes and occurrences of every day life. The meeting was a good one and those in attendance expressed themselves so.

Rev. Dr. Moffat, before commencing his sermon yesterday morning, spoke of the calamity in Pennsylvania and caused a collection to be taken up for the benefit of the flood sufferers. It amounted to about $235. The text of his sermon was taken from Isaiah and read: "But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles: they shall run and not be weary; and they shall walk and not faint." The words of the prophet he said, represented the different kinds Christian workers, and in commenting upon each the Doctor's words were eloquent and full of interest. The Christian workers who goes to God in prayer is the one to whom He gives strength, and relying upon His aid, he accomplishes grand results for the Master. It is the practical every day Christianity that the world wants and the worker who has learned to walk without fainting is the one who reaps his reward and is blessed by God. The sermon teemed with good points, but the central thought was to have faith in God and rely upon Him for strength and power to pursue the work that it is our duty to do in this world.

"Murder in Fort Wayne," was the subject of the sermon preached last evening at the Baptist church, by Rev. Stephen A. Northrop. It was one of a series of sermons which he is preaching on the Ten Commandments, and they crowd his edifice to the very doors. Last evening a SENTINEL reporter sought admittance, but not being able to get farther than the hallway entrance, he left the church and spent the evening at home reading the Sunday Cincinnati Enquirer's account of the great flood in Pennsylvania. The sermon, we were told, was a grand one and full of eloquence.

If the liver and kidneys are sluggish and inactive, Hood's Sarsaparilla will arouse them to prompt and regular action. Take it now.

Madison Township News.

To the Editor of THE SENTINEL:

The Marquardt and Whitney saw mill has again started up.

Mr. Absolom Fry will soon have his new brick house to a completion.

Grandma France visited her son, Amasa and wife, in Fort Wayne, last week.

August Jacquway says: "How things does whirl since I became papa of that bouncing boy."

Mm. Vanhorn, a prominent farmer of this section, who has been quite ill, has so improved that he is able to be about again.

The members of the German Baptist denomination conducted by Rev Alexander Miller, of Elkhart, this state, held communion services at the Peter Grabner barn, in Jackson township, last Tuesday.

Last week a bell was brought from Fort Wayne to the Marquardt Chapel and placed therein, its weight being 1,500 pounds. This is surely what the church greatly needed, as it will be very cheering to the young and old to hear its yoyous.

It is quoted since the burning of the Monroeville grist mill, that there will be a substantial mill placed in the little city. We hope these conjectures will be put in force, for by so doing it will make Monroeville one of the most prosperous little cities in the state.

Miller & Marquardt have got their tile sheds and house on Shinbone Alley, situated near the center of this township, almost completed. The firm will next proceed to make the brick for the kiln and then the work will begin in earnest. Let success crown their efforts.

Mr. Annias Boals and Miss Lizzie Linker, were united in the holy bonds of wedlock in Fort Wayne on the May 24, both residents of this section. May the happy couple see nothing but a gleam of bright sunshine and true happiness, are the wishes of ye SENTINEL representative.

We heard that Louis Fry carried his head so high on account of his making such a profitable horse trade. But as the writer made special inquires, we learned that it was not the cause at all, but only that his good wife had presented him with brilliant-eyed girl baby, May 24th.

On Tuesday, May 21st, Lonnie France while engaged in work near a shingle saw, on Shinbone Alley, in some manner his right hand caught in the saw, cutting his four-finger to the bone, inflicting a painful wound. The wound is healing as rapid as can be anticipated. Employes cannot be too careful around machinery.

Saturday night May 25th, the scholars of the M. P. Sabbath school of Maples held a concert in the church at that place. As usual the program was carried out with success, as it is noted for on such occasions delivered by them. The large crowd present remarked that the dialogues and declamations were well acted out, as well as any brought from the lips of humanity.

SUNDAY IN LONDON.

Everything in London closes at midnight. At that hour the underground railways cease operations; the omnibuses are run into the stables, and the drinking places are promptly shut up. The difference between a week day and a Sunday morning is, that the underground trains, in place of commencing operations at 5 a. m. as during the week, are an hour or two later in starting. The same is true of the omnibus lines; their sole observance of the Sabbath is to devote a couple more hours to sleep than on secular days. The drinking places are not permitted to open till 2 p. m., when they admit the thirsty public for a limited time, say an hour, when they again close to remain shut until 7 o'clock in the evening.

Meanwhile, if the weather be the least favorable, the observance of the Christian Sabbath is begun by a general movement of the middle and lower classes into the country. Every overhead and underground train, every omnibus running to the suburbs, is thronged with men, women, and children, with packages of refreshments, going out of the city into the breezy suburbs. The swell people do not, as a rule, appear in public on Sunday. They call the period "'Arry's Day'—that is, the day of common people—and they keep off the streets for fear that they may be regarded as belonging to the "'Arries." In the season the swells patronize the "Zoo," a place where only the very select are admitted, in which lavish displays in dress are encouraged, and in which they languidly inspect the monkeys in their cages and the lions in the walks.

It is a Curious Fact

That the body is now more susceptible to benefit from medicine than at any other season. Hence the importance of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla now, when it will do you the most good. It is really wonderful for purifying and enriching the blood, creating an appetite, and giving a healthy tone to the whole system. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is peculiar to itself.

Four negroes to one white is the proportion of deaths from consumption in Georgia.

Not a fit, but an expression of delight. "About a week ago," says a Los Angeles, Cala., druggist, "a chinaman came in with a lame shoulder. I sold him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and guaranted that it would cure him. He came in again last night, and as soon as he got inside the door, began to swing his arms over his head like an Indian club swinger. I thought the blamed fool had a fit, but he finally stopped long enough to say: "Medicine velly fine, velly fine; alle same make me feel plenty good." Chamberlain's Pain Balm, is without an equal for sprains, rheumatism, aches, pain or lame back. For sale by Geo. H. Loesch and Fred Hoham.

Out of nearly five hundred Catholic preists in Massachusetts, only eighty-four are foreign born.

Eczema, or Pimples on the Face.
Occurs mostly in young people about the age of puberty, and is an inflammation and filling up of the sebaceous glands of the skin. In almost all cases the blood is impure. Loose's Extract Red Clover Blossons will cure them without fail.

Sharp New Yorkers make old potatoes look like new by soaking them in a secret preparation.

Carpenters, builders, laborers, and all mechanics, who are particularly liable to cuts, bruises, wounds, sprains, overstraining, etc., should always have close at hand a bottle of Pond's Extract. Its beneficial result is almost always instantaneous. No remedy is equal to it. But great care is taken that Pond's Extract is obtained and not any cheap and worthless imitation. Refuse any substitute article. See landscape trade-mark on buff wrapper.

A PIECE of redwood bark brought to Visalia, Cal., was three feet thick.

Forced to Leave Home.

Over 60 people were forced to leave their homes yesterday to call for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine. If your blood is bad, your liver and kidneys out of order, if you are constipated and have headache and an unsightly complexion, don't fail to call on any druggist to-day for a free sample o this grand remedy. The ladies praise it. Everyone likes it. Large size package 50 cents.

LONG LIFE.

There is nothing in the world more generally desired than long life, yet the majority of people put off caring for their health—not because they are really careless, but because we live our lives at such a pace we have not time to give the subject sufficient thought until we receive a reminder in the shape of a severe illness.

Then, too, we are constantly bewildered by the various schools of medicine, and the physicians who represent them, and often blunder in our choice of a doctor.

If people only knew that the very best health-keeper, life-preserver and disease preventer that has yet been discovered, is simmered down into a concentrated and very palatable form in the shape of New Style Pleasant Taste Vinegar Bitters, they would not hesitate a moment to try it.

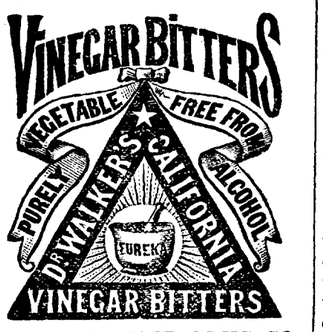

But they do not know. How can they know, when so many not only worthless, but positively injurious drugs are constantly flooding the market under various names and guises, that the New Style Vinegar Bitters is as bad as any of them?

They do not know, of course, unless they have the courage to try the New Style. It straightens out a tangled-up system in a very short while, and those who buy it once buy it always.

Why don't you try it, reader? It is sent out by a responsible house, and is exactly as represented. It costs but a dollar for a very large bottle. Try it once and you will never be so glad of anything in your life. Your druggist may not have it, but he will order it for you. Be sure it says New Style Pleasant Taste on carton and bottle before you take it. Try it, and you will feel happier than if you had found a gold mine, for it really is a mine—of health.

Free from alcohol and opium; composed of expensive herbs and roots, with fine, delicate flavoring.

The Euphonia double quartet have announced an excursion to Rome City for next Monday.

The new furnace in the moulding room at the Bass works under Foreman Myers started up to-day.

Henry Gardner, of the Pittsburg brass shops, is confined to his home on account of sickness.

J. A. Ludington, machinist at the Pittsburg shops, isoff duty on account of an injured hand.

Wm. G. Wurtle of the Pittsburg works, is off duty to-day. He is engaged in moving to a new residence.

A new class S engine was turned out of the Pittsburg shops Saturday and made a trial trip to Arcola.

The theme of conversation among the men in the manufacturing establishments is the great flood calamity in Pennsylvania.

James H. Sloan, clerk at the Pittsburg machine shops, has many friends at Johnstown, the city visited by the Pennsylvania floods.

James Trythall, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shops, is not in the best of humor. The cellar of his residence is flooded with water.

Frank Wechnker, of the Jenney electric light works, is receiving congratulations on account of the arrival of a handsome baby boy at his home.

A large number of Pittsburg shopmen attended the funeral of the little son of Aloysius Rauner yesterday. Mr. Rauner is employed at the Pittsburg blacksmith shops.

John Hogan is the name of an engineer whose locomotive made on the Bound Brook railroad in Pennsylvania the other day the fastest time made in this country. A single mile was made in thirty-nine seconds, and this record was kept up for eight miles.

It has been decided by the Pennsylvania railroad to send one of its best engines, perhaps "Long-legged No. 10," to England to be tried on the roads there. It will make its first appearance on the London and Northwestern railroad. As the English railroads are much straighter than those in this country, railroaders are much interested to see what an American locomotive can do on a bee-line track.

Hoagland Hits.

To the Editor of THE SENTINEL:

JUNE 29, 1889.

Mr. D. J. McWhirter, night operator at Winchester, Ind., was visiting friends here recently.

Mr. Emerson Kern, one of our prominent merchants, has removed his stock of goods to Sheldon. The people of Hoagland and vicinity greatly regret his departure.

Rev. A. G. McCarter, the Methodist minister, delivered an eloquent address Sunday evening, on the one hundreth anniversary of the Methodist book concern. The address was well received by nearly all present.

Miss Minnse Emerick, an extremely handsome and facinating young lady, who has often graced Hoagland's society and won generous admiration, was married to Mr. William McKeman recently. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. McDowel in presence of a large number of friends.

The singing class, which has been under the directions of Prof. Good, for the past year, will give one of their superb concerts at an early date. This is looked forward to as the event of the season, as the singers all possess a high degree of talent. The notable features of this entertainment will be given in due time.

The commencement exercises of the Hoagland school were held at the Baptist church on Friday evening. The following named persons received diplomas: Geo. Robinson, Bert Somers, Bell Gresley, Rosa Miller, Ame McWhirter, and Miss Adaline McIntosh. Superintendent Felts was present and delivered a very appropriate address to the class.

What a Pity.

That the otherwise beautiful girl should have such bad teeth. And all because she did not use SOZODONT. It costs so little to buy it considering the good it does, and its benefits stretch out into her future life. Poor girl!

MISS DAISY, of Kentucky, who is among the Oklahoma boomers, is fully prepared to defend her claim. She is well provided with pistils, and this is about the time of year for the daisy to shoot.

HE FOLLOWED HIS ADVICE.

It frequently happens that the "engineer is hoist with his own petard." This was emphatically the case in the following incident as told by Golden Days:

In days gone by, few southern lawyers were more distinguished than Luther Martin. He was one day riding to Annapolis in a stage coach, when his only companion—a young man who had just been admitted to the bar—addressing him, said:

"Mr. Martin, you have been wonderfully successful in your profession. Are you willing to acquaint me with the secret of your success?"

"If you will pay my expenses during the few days that I shall remain in Annapolis."

"I will," was the earnest response.

"It is in this advice: 'Deny everything, and insist upon proof.'"

At Annapolis, Mr. Martin enjoyed all the luxuries that a fine hotel could furnish, regardless of expense, and, when the time for his departure arrived, passed the "bill"—of enormous proportions—to the young lawyer who was standing near. The latter merely glanced at it, and then returned it to Mr. Martin.

"Aren't you going to pay it?" Mr. Martin.

"Pay what?"

"This bill. Didn't you promise to defray all my expenses while I was in Annapolis?"

"My dear sir," was the quiet reply, "I deny everything and insist on the on the proof."

The eminent lawyer paid his bill, and laughingly said to the young man:

"You need no further counsel from me."

SAND-DRIFTS.

Dry, loose sand, wherever it occurs, is constantly being shifted by the wind, and often buries cultivated lands, buildings, and forests. On the shores of Lake Michigan are drifts 100 feet deep, and those of Cornwall reach 300 feet in depth, while the drifts of the Gobi desert are forty miles long and 900 feet high in places. On the shores of the Bay of Biscay the drifting sand travels inland sixteen feet a year, in parts of Denmark twenty-four feet, and in Southern India seventeen yards. In some places walls and barriers of vegetation have been created to stop the destroying drifts. Fine sand is taken up to a great height in the air, and deposited many miles away. In 1882 Iceland was visited by a remarkable sand-storm, lasting two weeks, which hid the sun and objects a few yards off like a dense fog, and caused the death of thousands of sheep and horses.

What Druggists Say.

Office of BASSETT & L'HOMMEDIEU, Wholesale and Retail Druggists.

J. M. LOOSE RED CLOVER CO.—Gentlemen: Yours of the 26th inst. received. In reply would say that your Loose's Extract Red Clover Blossoms is meeting with a large and rapidly increasing sale with us and that it gives excellent satisfaction. We think it will take the lead for the cure of blood diseases, especially those of a cancerous nature. Yours truly,
BASSETT & L'HOMMEDIEU.

A JOINT appearance—to actors meeting in an opium den.

100 Ladies Wanted,

And 100 men to call on any druggist for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine, the great root and herb remedy, discovered by Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains. For diseases of the blood, liver and kidneys it is a positive cure. For constipation and clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Children like it. Everyone praises it. Large size package, 50 cents. At all druggists'.

It was maintained by the late Horace Greely, that "nothing succeeds like success!" If this be true, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will always be popular, as it never fails. It is intended, especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, and is undoubtedly the best and most reliable medicine in use for those diseases. It is decidedly a success. For sale by Geo. H. Loesch and Fred Hoham.

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to take. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. I am satisfied that Cancer is hereditary in my family. My father died of it, a sister of my mother died of it, and my own sister died of it. My feelings may be imagined, then, when the horrible disease made its appearance on my side. It was a malignant Cancer, eating inwardly in such a way that it could not be cut out. Numerous remedies were used for it, but the Cancer grew steadily worse, until it seemed that I was doomed to follow the others of the family. I took Swift's Specific, which, from the first day, forced out the poison, and continued its use until I had taken several bottles, when I found myself well. I know that S. S. S. cured me.

POND'S EXTRA CT.

LETTERS FROM THE GOVERNORS.

It is a well-known fact that POND'S EXTRACT is used and recommended by more distinguished people than any preparation or remedy extant.

It is used in the household of the President as well as that of the humblest citizen; by members of the army and the navy, the Bar and the Bench, the pulpit and the press—all ranks and classes of people. To further illustrate this fact we append a few of the more recent letters from Governors of different States:

The Governor of New Hampshire.

GENTLEMEN: I have used POND'S EXTRACT in my family for several years, and have found it a most desirable and valuable remedy. Yours truly, MOODY CURRIER.
Dec. 3, '87.

The Governor of Pennsylvania.

GENTS: POND'S EXTRACT has been a valued reliance in our family for several years, especially in relieving the aches, sprains and bruises incident to children.
Very truly yours,
Nov. 30, '87. JAMES A. BEAVER.

The Governor of New Jersey.

DEAR SIR: I have for many years used POND'S EXTRACT, and have derived great benefit and relief therefrom. Yours truly,
Dec. 5, '87. R. S. GREEN.

The Lt.-Governor of Illinois.

GENTLEMEN: POND'S EXTRACT has long had a place in the medicine chest of my family. I assure you that we have found it a ready and valuable agent to relieve pain in many cases, and that very promptly. We cannot well keep house without it.
I am, truly yours,
Oct. 10, '87. J. C. SMITH,

TAR-OID

NATURE HAS NO BETTER REMEDY

Than this New Compound of Tar for Wounds, Burns, Sores, Piles, Salt Rheum, Eczema, and Coughs, Croup, Scrofula, Ulcers, Varicose Veins, Bronchitis, and Consumption.

TAR-OID must not be confounded with the cheap remedies which are prepared on the theory that Skin Diseases are caused by impure blood, which is not true. They have their cause in a want of vital action in the skin. TAR-OID restores this action, hence it cures every form of Skin Disease, also sores, burns, etc. It is soothing and wonderfully healing—gratifying results follow in every case. It is harmless and can be used with perfect safety by any one. It is superior to all other remedies. There is positively nothing else like it.

TAR-OID is a sure cure for piles. It never fails. We warrant a cure or refund the money. It gives immediate relief. It is perfectly safe, yet powerful in its action.

Mr. Jacob Caisady to-day sent to County Clerk Loag, a notice of his resignation as justice of the peace of Monroe township.

It was not Sadie Waters, but Sarah Waters, who was arrested the other day. This correction is made in justice to Sadie Waters.

Married, at the Berry street parsonage, on June 3, 1889, by Rev. W. M. VanSlyke, Mr. J. W. Sunderland and Catherine E. Baker.

The Pittsburg & Fort Wayne railroad company is not yet selling tickets to New York and do not expect to for some days to come.

Mrs. Mary Cordes died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Westphal, this morning, in Washington township. Funeral on Wednesday.

Mr. J. W. Ball, long a bill clerk in the Nickel Plate freight office, left for Milwaukee to-day, to take a position in the American Express office.

The county commissioners met this afternoon to grant liquor licenses. There were sixty-three applications in at 2 o'clock and not a remonstrance.

The Pennsylvania railroad company notified its officers at this point, to-day, to forward all material and supplies to the flood sufferers free of charge.

Elder E. H. Baker, for several years a member of the London, England, open air mission, will preach at the F. M. church on Creighton avenue this evening.

Sister Margaret, aged 45 years, died this morning at the St. Joseph hospital. She came here about a week ago from Columbia City. The funeral occurs Wednesday.

Jonathan Knappenburger, who died at New Haven Saturday, was buried this afternoon. He was a charter member Home lodge, and a life member of the chapter and council of this city.

At South Bend yesterday Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger dedicated the elegant new St. Patrick's church and preached a great missionary sermon. The prelate was warmly welcomed, too, and there was an immense parade of religious societies.

The election for two additional councilmen in the Seventh and Tenth wards occurs to-morrow. M. Geo. Gordon and John Nolan are candidates in the Seventh ward and Dr. Sturgis, Mr. Valentine Offenloch and Oliver Hebert are candidates in the Tenth ward.

BOYS IN DISGRACE.

Officer Wahrenburg Surprises a Couple of Youthful Burglars.

Saturday night about 1:30, Officer Fred Wahrenburg surprised two young thieves in August Becker's general store and saloon, on Fairfield avenue, the fellows having broken into it after closing hours.

The lads were at work on the cash drawer when the officer called a halt and surrender. Both fled, but one of them was brought down by a bullet from the policeman's pistol.

The wounded lad proved to be John Sullivan, son of Con. Sullivan, and he gave his companion as Mat Fallahee, son of Patrick Fallahee.

Both boys are of good and respectable families and are aged 20 and 21 years.

Sullivan narrowly escaped instant death, for the ball went his shoulder not an inch from the great artery. Dr. Derbyshire pulled the bullet out and after some nursing the patient came out all right.

But Fallahee, his accomplice, is still at large and likely to stay so for he got out of the city very speedily.

Young Sullivan was arraigned before Esquire France this morning and after a preliminary hearing he was bound over for trial in the sum of $500.

His family is not enclined to make fight for him although they were in court.

Both boys are vicious and have been the crowd in front of the school house: "Gentlemen," said he, "How many of you will volunteer to go to Prospect cemetery and dig graves?" A hundred said "I," and out on the road they started to make places in the earth to hold some of the bodies.

Aside from the rain the day is rather warm, and the bodies that are now being found cannot be kept very long. In short, burials are taking place on all sides.

LOOKING AFTER THE BONDS.

It is reported that the sportmen's association which owns the South Fork dam, was compelled to file an indemnity bond of $3,000,000 before their charter was issued. When the bill granting them these privileges was before the legislature, the representative from Cambria and Blair counties vigorously opposed its passage and only gave way, it is said, upon condition that such an indemnifying bond was filed. This bond was to be filed with the prothonotary of Cambria county.

Father Boyle, of Ebensburg, said the records at the county seat had no such trace of such a bond. He found the records of the charter but nothing about the bond. T. N. Kittaning, and other members of the association went to Ebensburg yesterday, to examine their records, as the association is known to be composed of very wealthy people. There is much talk here of their being compelled to pay at least a part of the damages.

She was taken to the hospital and is still unconsious. Her name is not known and she is not likely to recover.

This morning a man was taken out of the wreck of the Cambria Iron works. He had been pinioned by heavy timbers and was unconscious, but will likely recover.

Last night the members of J. H. Fisher's family, consisting of himself, wife and four children, were found locked tightly in each other's arms. They had been swept away and had gone down together.

Incidents of a like nature are occuring hourly. This morning the family of Mathew Fagan, consisting of himself, and wife and two children, were found in each other's arms.

Near the ruins of the Hurlbert house, the mangled remains of a man named McKee, were found. The body of a woman was found behind the bridge wall, half covered with water. The portion above the water had been burned away. When the body was drawn out at her feet were found the remains of her husband and three children.

The members of battery "B" who were so unceremoniously ordered home this morning by Adjutant General Hastings while waiting for cars, went to work to save bodies from the ruins in the drift above the bridge. Inside of two hours they had got out fifteen bodies, one of these was supposed to be that of John Diebert, the well known banker.

A DRIZZLING RAIN

commenced at 7 o'clock this morning and is now falling in a steady stream adding an air of gloom to the horrors of the scene.

Throughout the wrecked district along Iron street where every building has been completely swept away, the cellars have been filled with earth and rubbish up to a height even with the street. The whole now form one wide and level expanse.

NO ESTIMATING THE DEATH LOSS.

There are numberless people buried in the cellars and it will take months to get them cleaned out and before that is done it will be impossible to form any estimate of the number of lives lost.

TWELVE THOUSAND LIVES LOST.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 3.—3 p. m.—The latest estimates put the loss of life from 10,000 to 12,000.

Baltimore and Ohio conductor, Frank McDonald witnessed the first awful crash against the stone bridge. He said when he first saw the flood it was thirty feet, and gradually rose to at least forty feet.

"I certainly think I saw 10,000 bodies go under the bridge. The first that came down, struck the bridge and at once took fire, and as fast as the others came down they were consumed. I believe I am safe in saying, I saw at least 1,000 bodies burn. It reminded me of a lot of flies on fly paper, struggling to get away, with no hope and no chance to save them."

SEVEN THOUSAND COFFINS.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 3.—Between 4,000 and 5,000 coffins were sent or ordered to be sent from Pittsburg. Of these 2,200 were sent this morning. At noon an order was given for 2,000 more. Two thousand coffins have been shipped by one firm, and another sends 600.

POPULATION OF JOHNSTOWN.

Just one month ago the work of taking a census of the city for a new directory was completed and showed exactly 29,400 people.

LATEST BULLETIN.

PITTSBURG, June 3.—The Dispatch's 3 p. m. edition has the following heading: "Darker still is the picture at Johnstown, and the death list is greatly swollen. Fifteen thousand is the number of the lost now talked of as the ruins reveal."

AT OTHER PLACES.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—The

here are very high and a large number of streets are under water. Bridges are swept away, and the damage will be millions.

GEO. F. FELTS.

He is Again Elected County Superintendent of Schools.

The township trustees of the county met this afternoon to elect a superintendent of the county schools. There were eighteen members present with Mr. G. W. Brackenridge presiding and County Auditor Neizer secretary.

Mr. Geo. F. Feltz was the only candidate and he was re-elected to the position he now graces by a unanimous vote.

Mr. Millard W. Simons to-day filed his final report as executor of the will of the late O. A. Simons, and at once qualified as trustee, giving a bond of $300,000, with May, Celeste, and David Simons as surety. The estate first invoiced $322.097.65, and to-day, after paying all debts and bequests, it stands at $251,325.87.

Cancer

is a form of blood poison which is not understood by the medical profession as to its real nature and character, but it is evidently hereditary in its nature. It may accidentally develop itself without any predisposition or evidence of such existing position. The knife or caustic salves have heretofore been the so-called remedies for it, but all honest practitioners will tell you that this treatment fails to cure, and only hastens fatal results. Thousands of cases of epithelioma (skin) cancers, and a great many cases of scirrhus cancers, have been entirely cured by the use of Swift's Specific. It forces the poison out through the cancer itself, and the pores of the skin.

My father had cancer, my husband also had cancer, in fact, died with it. In 1875 a lump came on my nose, which steadily increased in size, and alarmed me. I used various remedies—salves and other applications, and finally tried to burn it out, but the sore returned worse than ever, growing larger and more angry, until I determined to try Swift's Specific. I took the medicine, and it soon made a complete cure. I know that S. S. S. cured me, because I discarded all other remedies. This was several years ago, and I have had no sign of a return of the cancer.
